

Good Morning,

My Name is Valerie Kursar.

I am Diana's only sibling.

She was – and still is – my Beautiful Baby Sister.

I Love and Miss Her So Much!

I know She's Looking Down on Us at This Very Moment.

One of Di and Andy's sayings was to
"Celebrate Where You Are."

For me, that means "Celebrate the Moment You Are In".

Well, we are doing that right now.

Thanks to all of you who made donations, the Library Committee, the Wonderfully Talented Artist and the Historic Preservation Commission.

From all of my extended family,
Thank You to Each and Every One of You.

This is Such a Great Honor to her Memory.

The Awesomely Beautiful Mural will Help Keep Her
Memory Alive – and is Something That will Last Forever.

Diana Love Working Here – and All the Children Who Came to the Library.

I Know She Loved Those that She met Earlier in Her
Career, as well.

Diana Loved Her Whole Community.

This Wonderful Mural is Something We can All Share with

Our Families, Our Children, Our Grandchildren.

Not Only the Mural and the Butterfly Garden, but the Many Memories We All Have of Diana. And by passing down shared stories. The kids can say, “My Mom and Dad knew her,” “Mimi and Pawpaw knew her.”

This is an Awesome way to Keep Diana in Our Hearts Forever.

I Cannot Possibly Say Enough to Thank You All for this Dedication.

While Diana was battling Leukemia,
Another of her mantras was
“This Is A Good Day To Have A Good Day.”

And How True That Is Today.
